ART OUTSIDE

Art Farm Birchs Bay is thrilled to welcome you to our 15th Sculpture Prize Exhibition.

This year sculptures appear in some new places, as well as walking the trail, be sure to check out the exhibition in and around the Old Distillery Gallery and at the Café, and spend some time exploring the veggie garden – the artwork of a dedicated team of green thumbs.

Thanks to the judges- Anna Eden, Edith Perrenot and Caroline Davis Choi, to the committee and the farm, and most of all to the artists, whose imagination and craft continue to inspire and excite visitors to Art Farm Birchs Bay.

Once again Kingborough Council support us with an acquisitive prize and Department of Premier and Cabinet provides our People's Choice Prize (don't forget to vote - there's a prize in it!).

Big thanks to our wonderful 'Community Sponsors' * who help us create a prize pool and this year voted for the AFBB Acquisition. You can see who they are if you look carefully at some of the arrows on the trail.

While you walk the path and take in the views, give some thought to the hundreds of generations of people who have done something similar – the people who work here today, the settlers and sawyers before them, then, for millennia before them, the tribes and clans who included this land in their territory. What differing views these people will have had of what you can see today – farmland, regenerated forest and now the setting for the imaginative impulses of our artists!

We hope you enjoy this year's offering.

SCULPTURES IN THE OLD DISTILLERY GALLERY

1

Artist: Christie Lange

Title: Seeds of Potential

Materials: Hand built Porcelain Paper Clay

Size: H 15cm x W 25cm x D 5cm (6 objects)

Price: $145 each

Statement: Larger scale white seeds are surrounded by a patterned exterior which signifies their encoded nature. My aim, to create seeds with an otherness about them. Perhaps reminiscent of sea cucumbers, whilst botanical, they hint at a biomorphic emergence. Eliminating the flowers, pods or cones and increasing the scale of the seeds allows the viewer to investigate the seed itself. I want to bring us into connection with human potential, evoking the viewer to be drawn in closer, arousing a desire to interact with the seed, to contemplate its nature and therefore our own.

2

Artist: Ineke Severijn

Title: Dreaming of Tomorrow 2

Materials: Black clay, Ceramic

Size: Various

Price: $550 (large), $165 to $350 (medium), $145 (small)

Statement: The sculptures represent the first human presence on the continent, love, growth and peace.

3

Artist: Grietje van Randen

Title: Looking Out For Each Other

Materials: Blue recycled bailing twine, Recycled wood, Metal

Size: H 70cm x W 50cm x D 90cm

Price: $2,500

Statement: 'Looking Out For Each Other' is a maquette for my (Beyond) Blue Farmer series. The project started in memory of multiple suicides in my partner's (farming) family. The Farmers are double life size, clothes are knitted, woven and platted from donated recycled blue bailing twine with the help of community. Whilst knitting people share or contemplate their experience with depression. When erected these larger than life farmers are posed on farms 'Looking Out' and serve as a reminder for all of us to Look Out For Each Other.

4

Artist: Catherine PhillipsTitle: *KanamalukaMaterials: Powder-coated mild steelSize: H 40cm W 90cm D 3cmPrice: $1,000

Statement: The work Kanamaluka references the shape of the Tamar (Kanamaluka) River, from its "base" at the entrance to Bass Strait to the port of Launceston, from an aerial perspective. This river is not only a significant waterway in the Tamar Valley, but has been an integral part of my personal history from childhood. Historically my ancestors lived and worked along the banks of the Tamar, as farmers and orchardists. A favourite family narrative told of my grandmother, who was postmistress at Rosevears, running from the post-office in her work dress, into the river to save two drowning children.

5

Artist: Erin LinhartTitle: *InheritanceMaterials: gold leaf, plaster, plaster bandage, foam and woodSize: H 30cm W 70cm D 60cmPrice: $750

Statement: Inheritance is a humorous investigation musing on personal voids and relics. By illuminating this growth, I pay homage to the seen and unseen inheritances that we become so sentimentally bound to; once someone has physically or emotionally left our presence.

My practice is an evolving multidisciplinary exploration, drawing inspiration from life events, observation and environment to narrate nostalgia.

6

Artist: Mathu MartinTitle: *Version 4Materials: Steel - painted and cast zincSize: H 30cm W 30cm x D 90cmPrice: $540

Statement: The things I make and draw don't come from my imagination but from my memory although I don't know when or where I witnessed them, maybe that's important? Perhaps not, we think too much sometimes. I just enjoy inventing things that fill a void in a place.

Ineke Severijn Dreaming of Tomorrow 2

7

Artist: Richard Whitaker

Title: Thinking

Materials: Painted Steel

Size: H 35cm W 35cm D 6cm

Price: $390

Statement: We are often encouraged to 'think outside the square'. But is it sometimes better to think of where we are?

8

Artist: Wendy Fletcher

Title: The Escapee

Materials: Ceramic and metal

Size: H 63cm W 100cm D 100cm

Price: $1,200

Statement: Life inside the cocoon is constrained and comfortable but it is restrictive and unstable. Beyond this there is more sunshine and space to explore – so escape when you can and enjoy what the bright sunny day has to offer even if you have to return to the cocoon eventually.

9

Artist: Mike Limb

Title: Old Boot

Materials: Rusted mild steel

Size: H 70cm W 70cm D 30cm

Price: $800

Statement: Life is an endless cycle of birth and renewal. What may be old and worn out for one purpose, may be new and opportune for another.

Artist: Darren Lindsell
Title: Fractured Perspective
Materials: Timber (form ply), mirror and stainless steel
Size: H 240cm W 240cm D 600cm
Price: $4,200
Statement: The inspiration for this work came from the discussions with others about the complexity of having a shared perspective and the impossibility of this. When you look into the fractured mirror and see the bush, sky, water and yourself, you will see something unique to you but also a part of a perspective shared with others.

12

Artist: Dan O'Toole
Title: Raising Hope
Materials: Ferrocement, hand forged steel, earth, epoxy resin.
Size: H 400cm W 400cm D 500cm
Price: $6,000
Statement: The acts of man, deforestation and greenhouse emissions are irreversibly altering our environment. Are we condemning our species to extinction? What will be after we are gone? Will nature fight back, adapting and evolving? We are in the grip of Climate Change. – Gripping, squeezing crushing hands. Acts of Mankind. – Manipulative hands, creative & destructive hands. Nature – A mother's hands, nurturing hands. Resisting & Fighting – Hand to hand combat. Dying – Desperate, grasping, reaching hands. Concealing, carrying, protecting hands. – Germinating a seed of hope

Darren Lindsell Fractured Perspective (front and back)

13

Artist: Gene McLaren
Title: Future Complications
Materials: Corten steel, mild steel, concrete
Size: H 180cm W 90cm D 200cm
Price: $2,800

14

Artist: Matt Sloane
Title: The Hunter
Materials: Steel Forged and fabricated
Size: H 240cm W 70cm D 70cm
Price: $8,600
Statement: The majestic Wedge-tailed Eagle, swooping on its prey. This life size representation made from recycled steel, reclaimed tools and machinery, highlights the sheer size and power of one of Tasmania's most iconic endangered species. Through using 100% reclaimed objects, destined to land fill, it also highlights the value of things we would otherwise discard.

15

Artist: Fraser the Razor
Title: This do in remembrance of me
Materials: mild steel, wood
Size: H 150cm W 150cm D 160cm
Price: $12,000
Statement: This work is symbolic of memories and the feelings they evoke. Wings represent hope, the positive and optimistic; they enable you to soar freely and advance successfully. The talons are darker, malicious and painful; they grip firmly to the past, grounding you, holding you back. While the wings and talons are opposites, they are also codependent. Finding balance is key.

Gene McLaren Future Complications

16

Artist: Wednesday Walkers
Title: Gathering
Materials: Tasmanian native timber poles sourced from a variety of locations in southern Tasmania. Natural and man made fibre.
Size: H 60cm W 120cm D 140cm
Price: EOI (artists accepting donation to charity)
Statement: Every year our walking group visits Art Farm Birchs Bay to enjoy a stroll amongst the sculptures. Our sculpture arose from a light hearted suggestion that we could come together as a group to create an entry. Why not?

This sculpture tells a story about us. We are a group of individuals of different ages, origins, interests, careers and pathways in life who come together to function as a cohesive group for a shared purpose, to walk in the natural environment. Joining the two elements represents the strong bonds formed between us over time.

Artist: Julie Milton
Title: Unidentified Species
Materials: wooden stakes, enamel paint, concrete.
Size: H 150cm W 150cm D 100cm
Price: $524
Statement: With the dramatic onset of climate change, I pause to think about how the flora and fauna will adapt in order to survive; how will they evolve and what will they look like?

18

Artist: Richard Whitaker
Title: Prejudice
Materials: Rusted Steel.
Size: H 240cm W 150cm D 150cm
Price: $2,400
Statement: As you approach someone you gain a first impression from what you see. Don't be prejudiced by colour, race or cultural stereotypes. Be ready to accept. Be open minded. You need to be able to see through the layers to the character below.

As it should be with people, so with this work. Depending on how you approach it, depends on what you perceive. Probably, at first, a jumble of steel. But move around and you will see two faces. Beware of prejudice. Your position and attitude will mould your perception.

Artist: Mitch EvansTitle: *The Eagle has landedMaterials: Recycled SteelSize: H 260cm W 260cm D 5cmPrice: $3,300Statement: The Eagle is a collaboration of primarily industrial components from land and sea. Singularly they are simply scrap metal having served their original purpose. Repurposed they collectively form a new life in the form of Australia's largest bird of prey, the apex predator of the sky, the Wedge-tail Eagle.

Artist: Dave SewellTitle: *Flame DanceMaterials: Steel welded and paintedSize: H 220cm W 80cm D 10cmPrice: $250Statement: This work aims to capture the sharp contrasting colours that can exist in nature.

21

Artist: Seth IshamTitle: *The SwordMaterials: Salvaged Timber beam (Oregon Pine)Size: H 307cm W 54cm D 9cmPrice: $3,000Statement: A sword can be symbolic of many things: the nostalgia of a childhood toy – being a knight and slaying dragons, or it can represent truth, protection and courage. However this sword also represents the battle my own son, Ned, has fought against cancer, the very real dragon in his life. Sadly not gaining victory, the sword now stands as a requiem to his life, his bravery and his strength.Wednesday Walkers Gathering

22

Artist: Dave Sewell
Title: Submariner
Materials: Steel, stone and drift wood
Size: H 220cm W 80cm D 10cm
Price: $500
Statement: A homage to the feeling states of service men and women, in particular navy

23

Artist: Eo Greensticks
Title: Love will prevail on earth
Materials: Ferrocement with basalt reinforcement
Size: H 1,400cm W 400cm D 100cm
Price: $2,000
Statement: This sculpture is a Genesa Crystal supported by a 3 sided spiral cone. The Genesa Crystal, a magical shape, was discovered in the 1940's by plant geneticist Dr. Derald Langham. It is the crystalline shape observed at the 8 cell stage of development in all living organisms prior to differentiation- the point from which Life is able to expand in any direction. This shape is a powerful tool for manifestation and I have made it with the intent that it manifest the thought that 'Love will Prevail on Earth.'

24

Artist: Shane Suris
Title: Tin Tuna
Materials: Scrap metal inc. truck air tank
Size: H 50cm W 400cm D 210cm
Price: $2,300
Statement: I've combined my love for fishing and scrap metal art to create 'Tin Tuna'. This piece represents the bluefin tuna, a fearsome and speedy predator and its power and place in the seafood chain.

Dave Sewell Submariner

SCULPTURES IN FIVE BOB CAFÉ

25

Artist: Craig Ashton

Title: Nascent

Materials: King Billy Pine, Oil

Size: H 28cm W 17cm D 57cm

Price: $900

Statement: The graceful, fluid shapes and lines, the sensual, elegant curves of birds such as swans, herons and other like birds has been a strong influence inspiring my work. Using salvaged timber I followed the innate, elemental shapes and lines within the timber, removing weathered, decomposing material unviable through exposure to the elements over many years, the latent form was revealed.

Leaving some of the fissures left by the weathering process recognises the story told by the timber and the journey experienced before its new beginning.

26

Artist: Julia Knight

Title: Brook Horse

Materials: Huon Pine

Size: H 37cm W 9cm D 6cm

Price: $410

Statement: The Brook Horse is carved from a piece of timber that originally was used as a fence post. It was severely weathered but this creature was hiding in the length of wood. Perhaps the post was part of a fence used to hold horses in check? The Brook Horse is actually a mythical creature from Scandinavian folklore. Just don't follow it down to the river!

Shane Suris Tin Tuna

Mike Limb Old Boot

Craig Ashton Nascent

Wendy Fletcher The Escapee
